This study will discuss the setting of Copyright as object guarantee fiduciary by Copyright Law Number 28 of 2014 and Fiduciary Law Number 42 of 1999, where there has been no further regulation on the ordinance enforcement of copyright which is the object fiduciary. In this study carried out by way of normative legal research is descriptive qualitative. Data collected by literature study to collect and compile data related to the problem examined. Basic data in this research is secondary data. Studies have found that copyright can be used as objects of fiduciary because copyright is an intangible movable goods that can be transported with a variety of transtition stipulated in laws and economic value. Collective Management Organization is one institution that can provide an assessment of the economic value of the copyright. Copyright fiduciary guarantee will be submitted to the government that made the rules on implementation.

Keywords: Copyright, Object Fiduciary Guarantee